Cashless payment options

Secure, simple & international
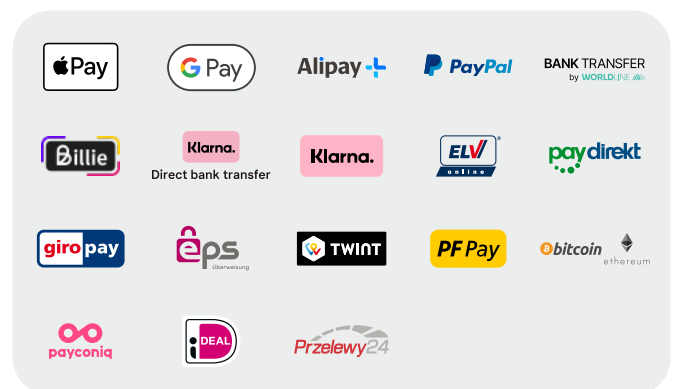

Acceptance of all commonly used payment methods for your successful e-commerce business.

The ability to make cashless payments is taken for granted these days. Credit and debit cards are the most popular means of payment in the online world. Paying by credit card is an invitation to make spontaneous purchases online and it has been proven to boost your turnover. But mobile payment solutions are also becoming increasingly popular because of how convenient they are. In order to gain international customers, it's important for your company to offer all commonly used means of payment. We provide you with comprehensive services for cashless payments.

You can process the following payment methods through us in your shop without any problems:

We also support a range of alternative payment methods:

Omni-channel

Omni-channel is the combination of various sales channels that focuses on the seamlessly-interlinked shopping experience your customers have, regardless of whether these customers make purchases from a computer, smartphone, by phone or in a shop. Bundle your sales channels into a strong, innovative omni-channel approach and make your online and offline business a success. We will support you across all channels – from the strategy to the first payment.

Dynamic Currency Conversion (DCC)

With DCC, the automatic currency conversion, your foreign customers can choose to either pay in their card's currency or in the respective local currency. And you benefit from additional revenue.

myPortal

The web-based tool for reporting and data comparison offers you a better overview and makes managing your payment transactions even easier.

Authorisation

Our authorisation service offers you global protection, as we check, for example, whether a valid card that has not been blocked has been used for a transaction or whether the requested amount is available for the card product.

Chargeback

We are also here for you when it comes to cancelling transactions (chargeback). Thanks to our efficient chargeback system, we considerably reduce your administrative expenditure and manage chargeback processing with the contracting parties for you.
